Executive Summary:
Our goal is to make Fort Worth one of the most pet-friendly in the nation. To accomplish that goal, the Fort Worth Animal Care & Control’s mission is to find loving homes for all our shelter pets, protect them from neglect and cruelty, and promote humane awareness and compassion. Our purpose is to also decrease the number of unwanted and stray dogs and cats in the city, to encourage responsible animal ownership and to protect the city’s public health, safety and welfare.

For the past several years the City of Fort Worth has been focused on increasing its animal shelter live release rate. The City has demonstrated its commitment to this effort by successfully implementing several new initiatives that have had positive results.

Those include:

- Medical Treatment Ward
- Volunteer Program
- Stray Team
- Enhanced preventive medicine protocols at the shelter
- Developed outdoors enrichment areas
- Expanded the Trap Neuter Release (TNR) program for community cats by creating a coalition of volunteers and non-profit organizations.
- Established low/no-cost spay/neuter programs with partner organizations as a means to reduce pet overpopulation and the number of animals abandoned at area shelters.
- Development of the Cowtown Crashpads, the shelter’s foster program.

Additional projects that are in-process:

- Bond package shelter expansion.
  - Groundbreaking is expected in early 2016.

- The City enjoys strong partnerships with a diverse group of animal welfare agencies, including more than 100 local animal rescue groups. Efforts have been made to enhance these partnerships and provide incentives for rescue groups to make our shelter a desired partner. Part of these efforts include providing spay/neuter, vaccinations, and microchip services at no cost for every animal taken from our shelter by a rescue group.

- Increase pet licensing by enhancing options for all residents.
- Review and update of all animal-related city ordinances.

Much has been accomplished, but there is much more to do. Our efforts to date have resulted in a significant increase in our shelter live release rate from 30% in 2009 to a high of 85% in October 2015. FY 2015 sustained an average rate of 77%.

Healthy, adoptable animals are now finding new homes; however, we continue to strive to save more shelter animals with illness, injury or temperament issues that are potentially manageable or treatable with additional time and resources.

Below is a detailed overview of the City’s ongoing plan to increase live outcomes with accomplishments to date specific to each objective.

CONCLUSION:

Fort Worth has much to be proud of in the area of animal welfare and great strides have been made in recent years, but there is more work to do.

We encourage advocates to participate in all of these efforts through volunteering at our shelter or at one of our PetSmart adoption centers, donating to our medical treatment ward project, our pet adoption programs and/or participating with viable non-profit rescue organizations to expand community capacity that will assist the City in further increasing its live release rate.

The Fort Worth animal shelter’s live release rate is climbing. Through partnerships with other local groups, individuals and agencies, we are committed to further improving our live release rate and saving the lives of animals abandoned at our shelter.
