Creating more parks for Texans

Since 1979, The Trust for Public Land has protected more than 43,000 acres of Texas’s most important natural places, including over 1,900 acres right here in North Texas.
Overview of TPL’s Role

Purpose
• Develop data-driven Open Space Prioritization Tool
• Evaluate funding and policy options

Key elements
• GIS-based data-driven analysis and prioritization
• Online mapping interface and decision support tool
• Benchmarking study
• Strategy report
• Story map webpage
Public Engagement

• Hosted 3 stakeholder meetings
  • 65 members from different sectors (Environment, Academia, Development, Neighborhoods, State & Regional Government)
  • Held 3 Policy Small Group meetings

• Hosted 3 public meetings

• Gave 3 virtual presentations on the public survey in English and Spanish

• Public Survey (English and Spanish) – received 1,429 responses
  • Top responses for each question were consistent across demographics

Research Methods

• Compiled best practices and lessons learned from eight cities
• Synthesized key guidance from The Conservation Program Handbook - a guide for local government land acquisition
• Evaluated existing Fort Worth open space goals highlighted in various reports and planning documents
• Met with a policy-focused small group to gather information and tailor recommendations to local conditions
Benchmarking Study

Benchmarking Cities
Best practices among similar cities
• Austin
• Dallas
• San Antonio
• Oklahoma City, OK
• Charlotte, NC

Showcase Cities
Best practices from best-in-class cities
• Boulder, CO
• Albuquerque, NM
• Minneapolis, MN
Key Program Recommendations

Acquisition

- Short-Term: Identify individual priority parcels that fit program goals
- Short-Term: Identify partners that can support program and explore opportunities to acquire properties
- Medium-Term: Explore opportunities to incentivize or require open space conservation

Funding

- Short-Term: Determine funding sources for program
- Short-Term: Ensure annual city budget appropriations keep pace with maintenance demands
- Medium-Term: Conduct public opinion survey to gauge voter support for different funding mechanisms and uses of funds

Key Program Recommendations

Goals

• Medium-Term: Include seven goal areas in master plans and other guiding documents

Management

• Short-Term: Commit to equitable and inclusive open space management
• Medium-Term: Evaluate passive recreation opportunities for open spaces that meet the diverse needs of our growing city
• Long-Term: Explore opportunities to work with partners to establish regional open space system
Key Program Recommendations

Maintenance

• Short-Term: Continue maintaining open space through Park & Recreation Dpt.
• Medium-Term: Develop training program for maintenance of open space
• Long-Term: Develop management plans for major parcels and track impacts

Continuous Public Feedback & Volunteers

• Short-Term: Consider how to incorporate continuous public feedback such as through a continued stakeholder group, advisory committee or board
• Short-Term: Work with city’s volunteer coordinator to identify opportunities to engage residents with different interests and physical abilities
Next Steps

• Refine program recommendations based on city management, stakeholder, and public feedback
• Finalize prioritization tool
• Finalize report
• Finalize story map webpage
• Stakeholder Meeting #4
• Public Meeting #4
