

Let the X Team guide you through the permit process

As a part of the City of Fort Worth’s continued pursuit of process improvements, the Expedited Plan Review Team (X Team) has created a new webpage to assist in serving residents and businesses through the building permit process.

The X Team is a group of staff members that are dedicated solely to accelerating the development process for customers. The Development Services Department started the team in January 2019 to give customers a faster option during plan review, and the team has successfully fast-tracked building plan reviews for businesses such as restaurants, multifamily buildings, medical offices and warehouses.

“The X Team webpage gives our customers a starting point when they want or need additional assistance with the building permit process,” said Ann Nace, development project coordinator.
