

Review of City Facilities for Community Gallery Use

January 6, 2026

Overview

- The Community Arts Center at 1300 Gendy closed in 2025, resulting in less space to exhibit community art.
- The city has libraries and community centers with existing or potential gallery space that could be programmed for community art exhibits.
- There is a position in the library department that has been identified to program these spaces citywide.
- This helps address two-dimensional art exhibition needs and does not address needs for additional arts including dance, music, theater, ceramics, etc.
- The library is exploring a residence program for a variety of artists across disciplines as part of programming for the future downtown library. The downtown library will also include gallery space for visual arts and a ballroom with stage for performing arts.
